ROOSEVELT STRESSES UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF

FOUR TRACK TEAMS MEET HERE FRIDAY

The powerful Sherman High Bearcats, 1932 district and state champions, have entered their fast flying track team in the invitation meet to be held at Newsome field, in McKinney, Friday afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock. Thus the meet now becomes a quadrangular affair with the Denison Yellow Jackets, Gainesville Leopards and McKinney Lions already entered.

The Bearcats were district 5 and state champions last year. McKinney was county champions, while Gainesville turned out a good team as did Denison, the Yellow Jackets holding a majority of the records in district 5 through the excellent performance of their tracksters during the last few years.

This meet promises to be the finest in the history of the county with four of the premier teams of North Texas entered.

Admission will be 10 cents, the proceeds to go to pay for sweat suits for the Lions' squad this year. There will be several events going on throughout the evening, the meet probably closing about 5:30 p. m.

With four such fine teams entered in the meet, the final winner in points is very uncertain. Sherman has a large number of lettermen back from last year's championship squad. The Denison Yellow Jackets as usual are very powerful, while Gainesville and McKinney both have good entries. The Lions recently triumphed in a meet with the E. T. S. T. C. freshmen and the varsity scrubs, held at Commerce, and are expected to make a good showing in the Friday contest.

Every one who enjoys good clean athletics and all supporters of the McKinney High Lions are urged to come out Friday afternoon and show that they are squarely behind Coach Rollins and his boys not only for their ability but because they have stepped out and secured for McKinney the biggest meet ever held in this county.

Suitable officials will be secured.

The large dining table was loaded with foods that delight the palate. The thirty guests greatly enjoyed this repast. A lovely angel food cake, bearing the proper number of candles, was sent by a friend, Miss Johnson, who was not able to be present.

The afternoon was spent playing forty-two and solving jig-saw puzzles.

W. T. LOVELL DIED SUDDENLY AT HOME HERE

Funeral services for W. T. Lovell, 73 years, 5 months and 6 days old, who died at 11:10 a. m. Wednesday at his home, 606 South Chestnut street, were held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the residence with burial following in Pecan Grove cemetery. Services were conducted by his pastor, Rev. G. O. Key of the King Memorial church, assisted by Dr. J. H. Cozad pastor of the First Baptist church. The C. C. Harris Funeral home had charge of burial arrangements. The deceased had not been well for the last several months and was taken suddenly ill only five or six hours before he passed away.

William Thomas Lovell was born in DeKalb county, Alabama, October 16, 1859, being the son of W. T. Lovell Sr. and wife. His father was a Confederate soldier, who died of pneumonia in 1861, when the son was only two years old.

His mother moved to Arkansas when he was four years old, where he continued to reside until 1902 when he moved to Texas, bought a farm at Lucas about twelve miles southeast of McKinney, where he resided until 1914. In 1915 he moved to McKinney, where he spent the remainder of his life. He followed farming in his active days at which he made a success. While he obtained very meager education when a child, yet he was a constant reader and was well informed on general topics. He was a member of the King Memorial Baptist church of this city.

He was married March 18, 1883, at Centre Point, Ark., to Miss Sarah Tollett and was the father of five children, three of whom survive as follows: Richard B. Lovell of the farm loan organization in the Interurban building, Dallas, of the Federal Refinance corporation; Mrs. E. D. Henderson of Texarkana and Miss Rebecca Lovell, a McKinney school teacher. A printer son, J. A. Lovell, died at Wichita Falls six years ago and a year-old baby daughter also preceded him to the grave. He is also survived by three grandchildren, and two half brothers—Bud Stephenson of Dierks, Ark., and Brazos Stephenson of Victoria, Texas.

The C. C. Harris Funeral home directed the burial arrangements.

Active pallbearers were J. B. Cannaday, Jim Williams, R. H. McMinn, Frank Wolford, B. F. Hearne and City Commissioner C. M. Bryan.

VACCINATION WOULD WIPE OUT SMALLPOX

Smallpox epidemics would never occur if every one, especially children, could be effectively vaccinated, stated Dr. Charles D. Reece, epidemiologist, state department of health, Austin, Tex. "At present there is an increasing lack of vaccination among school children and this constitutes a menace.

"Modern safeguards have removed every legitimate objection to vaccination. The virus is made from calves, and consequently, is incapable of transmitting human blood diseases. Among some ten million vaccinations performed in the Philippine Islands, there was no loss of life or limb or demonstrable injury to health.

"A primary vaccination with one successful revaccination, will as a rule, protect throughout life from the milder forms of smallpox, but this is not true in the severer types of this disease. Therefore, be vaccinated and revaccinated at least every five years, so that you will have the greatest protection possible and the least chance of being sick. Revaccination should also be done after each time you have been near a known case of smallpox, for you know that the old vaccination protects if the new one fails to "take." Vaccination is not to be feared but rather to be sought as the only safe, positively harmless and absolutely certain safeguard against smllpox. See your doctor today and be sure that you are protected."

FORMER M'KINNEY WOMAN TELLS OF EARTHQUAKE

Mrs. Leona Emerson, who is making her home with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Smith, 404 Santa Fe avenue, Huntington Park, Calif., has written to her nephew, Dick Faulkner, and other McKinney relatives, describing in part the earthquake that hit that section of the Pacific coast.

Mrs. Emerson, her daughter (formerly Miss Camille Emerson) and the latter's two little children, L. R. and Budda Smith, were at their residence preparing the evening meal when the first tremor shook that section of California. The drug store where DeWitt Smith is employed was greatly damaged, the stock being mostly destroyed and much damage done to the building.

Though all the residents of that section were badly frightened, Mrs. Emerson said she and her daughter managed to "keep their heads" for the children's sake. All escaped unhurt. However, their property was damaged to a great extent. All slept outside of their homes and in cars in the yards. Many of them erected tents until all danger of other tremors was passed. The bricks of the drug store, where DeWitt works, fell in on the manager and broke his leg and one arm. Mrs. Emerson said the whole town was wrecked. Of course, several of the buildings were still standing, but most of them were so damaged that they could not be opened up for business. The police guarded the business district, roping it off to keep people out of the way. All wires and office buildings of the Pacific Western Union and Postal Telegraph were down.

Mrs. Emerson stated she and her daughter were taking pictures of some of the ruins which they would send to their McKinney relatives and friends that they might see the actual scenes of the disaster.

HELP SCHOOL ENUMERATOR GET ALL NAMES

F. A. Kluttz, scholastic enumerator for McKinney, is now about through with his work of listing eligible school children for this year. He only has a few back calls yet to make and has to complete the census and turn in his report by the first of April. It is very important that no child within the scholastic age—six to eighteen—be overlooked as in that case the local school system would lose the state appropriation made for each child within the borders of the state. Therefore, every parent, guardian and neighbor should co-operate with Mr. Kluttz in seeing that each child of school age is properly listed. It means additional money from the state in our local school treasury.

If your child has been overlooked, or if your neighbors' child has been overlooked, or a family has moved into your neighborhood with school children since Mr. Kluttz was around, call him on the phone—962-J, and he will greatly appreciate it as well as the school board and taxpayers generally.

Mr. Kluttz states that his work has been extremely pleasant and enjoyable on account of the uniform courtesy and willing co-operation that the people have given him in his work of properly listing the scholastics of our city this year.

Forestry Work Would Enlist Men for Year In Over 1,000 Camps

Jobs For 250,000 In Work Is Plan of President; Other Unemployment Relief To Be Pressed By President.

Washington, March 22.—The administration farm relief bill, which is number 4 on the fast-moving Roosevelt legislative program, was slated for passage in the house today.

Despite the evident misgivings of a large part of the house, members were rallying to the cry to support the president and to give him and the secretary of agriculture chance to do something for agriculture.

Washington, March 22.—Congress is at work on a broad employment and relief program submitted by President Roosevelt for marshalling of immediate jobs for about 250,000 men in the nation's forests.

A bill authorizing the government to enlist the idle in the cities and put them to work in 1,000 camps of 200 or more men each was introduced in the senate as the fifth of the Roosevelt emergency recommendations was received on Capitol Hill.

The busy president informed congress he would submit later his ideas for grants to states for relief work and for a broad public works labor creating program.

To get the funds for his proposed civilian conservation corps, Mr. Roosevelt looked Tuesday night to his director of the budget, Lewis Douglas, who is preparing the plan to carve out more than $400,000,000 in savings from government salaries and veterans' compensations which was authorized in the economy act. An early report on this is in prospect.

To Get $30 a Month.

Members of the conservation corps who will be selected from the centers of unemployment are to be paid $30 a month with food and housing.

Despite an incipient revolt against the scheme in the house, congressional leaders assured the president he could go ahead with his plans which he hopes to put into effect within two or three weeks.

Chairman Connery of the house labor comimttee refused to introduce the administration bill on the ground organized labor is opposed to it.

Speaker Rainey promptly announced he would ask Representative Byrns of Tennessee, the party leader, to introduce the legislation.

William Green, president of the American Feedration of Labor, withheld comment on Connery's announcement and indicated he would speak later.

Robinson Acts in Senate.

On the senate side, Robinson of Arkansas—the Democratic leader—introduced the Roosevelt proposal in behalf of himself and Senator Wagner of New York. He acted as soon as the presidential message was received.

"I estimate," President Roosevelt told congress, "that 250,000 men can be given temporary employment by early summer if you give me authority to proceed within the next two weeks.

"I propose to create a civilian conservation corps to be used in simple work, not interfering with normal employment, and confining itself to forestry, the prevention of soil erosion, flood control and similar projects.

"I call your attention to the fact that this type of work is of definite, practical value, not only through the prevention of great present financial loss, but also as a means of creating future wealth. This is brought home by the news we are receiving today of vast damage caused by floods on the Ohio and other rivers."

Plans Being Made.

Heads of the war, agriculture, interior and labor departments already are carrying forward plans to put the scheme into quick operation.

R. Y. Stuart, chief forester, said the forest service has an assortment of data aimed to put the plan into effect quickly. He hopes to extend the program on a co-operative basis with the states and privately owned lands.

It is the apparent intention of the administration to enlist the idle through the war department, but the legislation stipulates no requirements shall be made for the corps members to bear arms. Enlistments will be for a term of one year.

In addition to forestry work the corps would be authorized also to work on roads and trails in the public domain and government reservations.

All Sections to Benefit.

Every section of the country will be included in the project and the announcement of the 1,000 or more camps is expected to show the national map dotted with the camp sites.

EDITORIAL EXPRESSION

This paper wishes to be counted among the optimists who believe that our great leader, President Roosevelt, is going to lead us into a better day. It may come slowly but it will come surely so we believe.

County Farm Agent Jack P. McCullough says the spirit of helpfulness that leads country folks to assist each other to make a living on the farm is manifested everywhere. He has conducted demonstrations in cutting up hogs and beef. Many have profited by these demonstrations. They not only butcher their own hogs and beeves, but they are also anxious to help their neighbors to put into practice for the benefit of their friends what they have learned in these meat cutting demonstrations.

Collin County taxpayers will save more than than three-quarters of a million dollars on their outstanding road bonds through the recent refunding act of the legislature enacted last year. The gasoline tax is providing the money for this relief, beginning on Jan. 1st this year. One cent of the four cent gas tax is being set aside for this purpose, which means an annual fund of $7,000,000 to relieve farm land and other real estate of the interest and sinking fund on bonds floated to raise money with which to build designated state highways.

One of Collin county's deserving industries is the McCraw Candy company of Farmersville. A few years ago the owner founded his business in a very small way almost without capital. By industry, honest dealing and making superior products he has gradually built up quite a pretentious candy manufacturing business. His products are being sold all over the state. He has just recently announced plans to enlarge and to extend his trade territory over the states of Louisiana, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Kansas as well as Texas.

Miss Helen Dunlap, home demonstration agent for Collin county, says that Collin farmers paid up their debts better last year and made fewer debts and are asking less money to run them in 1933 than ever before. Bankers and other business leaders attribute this directly to the A. & M. College Extension service idea of growing your own living at home on the farm. This popular extension work leader among farm women and girls for this county says that a family of five to live at home need at least a quarter acre garden, a half-acre orchard, two dairy cows, sixty laying pullets, two hogs and one beef animal for meat. These possessions together with other kinds of poultry and home canning facilities will turn the trick for any thrifty farm family of that size.

The history of the prohibition movement in America follows:

Dec. 18, 1917.—The Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution was submitted to the States by Congress.

Jan. 8, 1918.—The first State, Mississippi, ratified the amendment.

Nov. 10, 1918.—The wartime prohibition law designed as a measure to conserve grain during the war was enacted.

Jan. 6, 1919.—The thirty-sixth State, Nebraska, ratified the amendment.

June 30, 1919.—Wartime prohibition law became effective.

Oct. 9, 1919.—Congress passed the Volstead national prohibition act to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment.

Oct. 28, 1919.—Congress passed Volstead act over President Wilson's veto.

Jan. 17, 1920.—The Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead act became effective.

Nov. 23, 1921.—The Willis-Campbell act, strengthening the prohibition act, became a law.

Feb. 19, 1929.—The Jones law, an amendment making more drastic the national prohibition act, was passed by the Senate.

Feb. 28, 1929.—The House passed the Jones "five and ten" law.

March 2, 1929.—President Coolidge signed the Jones law.

July 1, 1930.—Administration of the prohibition law was transferred from the Treasury Department to the Department of Justice under the Williamson act.

Dec. 16, 1930.—United States District Judge William Clark of Neward, N. J., ruled the Eighteenth Amendment was unconstitutional, as it was improperly ratified, being done not by State conventions, but by State Legislatures.

Feb. 24, 1931.—United States Supreme Court by unanimous vote reversed Judge Clark's decision, ruling Article 5 of the Constitution gave Congress the sole power to specify the method of ratification.

March 14, 1932.—Beck-Linthicum resolution for returning to the States the right to continue or abolish the Eighteenth Amendment voted down in the House.

Dec. 5, 1932.—Garner resolution for outright repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment voted down in the House.

Feb. 16, 1933.—Senate passed Blaine resolution to repeal the Eighteenth Amendment.

Feb. 20, 1933.—House passed Blaine resolution to repeal the Eighteenth Amendment, thus sending it to the several States for ratification.

THREE PRESIDENTS RELATED.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt is related by blood to two former presidents of the United States—Theodore Roosevelt, the twenty-fifth president and General U. S. Grant, eighteenth president. In fact, he is a little more closely related to the latter than to the former although bearing the same name as the twenty-fifth president. A study of the genealogy of these three presidents of the United States tends to strengthen belief in the theory that "blood will tell." We take the following synopsis of a part of the biography of our new president, Franklin D. Roosevelt, from the Evening Star, Washington, D. C. issued on the same day that he was inaugurated—March 4:

Fifth Cousin of Husband.

Anna Eleanor Roosevelt is a fifth cousin, once removed, to her distinguished husband, being the daughter of Elliot Roosevelt, a younger brother of Theodore, who died in 1894.

On his mother's side, F. D. is descended from sturdy New England families—the Delanos, the Lymans, the Churches and Warrens. Other names occurring in the maternal line are Robbins, Cushman, Peckham, Perry, Pope, Hunt, Head, Shaw and Tucker—pure English stock, which seems to have blended admirably with the Dutch.

Through his great-grandfather, Capt. Warren Delano, and his wife Deborah (Church) Delano, Mr. Roosevelt is twice descended from Richard Warren, a Mayflower passenger and twelfth signer of the Compact. Capt. Warren Delano was a descendant in the fifth generation from Richard Warren through his granddaughter, Mercy Warren, who married Lieut. Jonathan Delano, while his wife, Deborah (Church) Delano, was a descendant in the seventh generation through Richard Warren's daughter Elizabeth, who married Richard Church.

Lieut. Jonathan Delano was the son of Phillip De-la-Noye, who was born at Leyden in 1602 and came to Plymouth in the Fortune in 1621. He fitted out at his own expense a company of 56 soldiers to fight the Pequot Indians in 1637. Jean de Lannoy, 1570 to 1604, father of Phillip de-la-Noye, belonged to an old French family. He was descended from the early Kings of France, Navarre, Spain, Portugal, Bavaria and England. Among his ancestors were Clovis I, Charlemange and Hugh Capet of France, William the Conqueror and Alfred the Great, Jean moved from Tournai to Leyden in 1599, where his wife later established 12 houses of refuge for persecuted Huguenots and Protestants from all countries, among them Rev. John Robinson, leader of the Pilgrams.

Ancestor of U. S. Grant.

Lieut. Jonathan Delano, born 1647, died 1720, and his wife, Mercy Warren, had 13 children. Little did he dream that two of his descendants would become heads of a great Nation, for he is the ancestor not only of Mr. Roosevelt through this son Thomas (13th child), but also through his son Jonathan he is the ancestor of President U. S. Grant. And it is interesting to learn that President Roosevelt is just a trifle more closely related to President Grant than to Theodore Roosevelt—fourth consin, once removed to the former; fifth cousin to the latter. In fact, Franklin D. is exactly the same relation—fifth cousin, once removed, to the former; fifth cousin to the latter. In fact, Franklin D. is exactly the same relation—fifth cousin, once removed—to Col. U. S. Grant, 3d now superintendent of building and grounds in Washington, D. C., as he is to Theodore Roosevelt, governor general of the Phillippines, or to the latter's sister, Mrs. Nicholas Longworth.

The mother of Franklin D.'s mother, Catharin Robbins (Lyman) Delano, contributed one of the strongest of the four major ancestral lines. She was the eleventh and youngest child of Judge Joseph Lyman, who graduated at Yale in 1783, and was admitted to the bar in 1787. He practiced law seven years in Westfield, Mass., and was connected with the county court as clerk, judge or sheriff for 60 years. His father, Capt. Oliver Lyman, married his second cousin once removed, Eleanor Lyman.

Richard Lyman, who settled in Charlestown, Mass., before 1635, went in October of that year with a party of 100 settlers to Hartford, Windsor and Wethersfield, Conn. He was one of the original settlers in Hartford. His descendants have attained distinction in many lines of endeavor. A few examples, in addition to Mr. Roosevelt, are; Admiral George Dewey, Charles W. Eliot, president of Harvard for so many years; J. P. Morgan, the elder, financier; Curtis D. Wilbur, former Secretary of the Navy; his brother, Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of Interior, in Hoover's cabinet; William R. Castle of Hawaii, his son, William R. Castle, Jr., Undersecretary of State; Frederic A. Delano, retired railroad president, former member of the Federal Reserve Board and now chairman of the National Capital Park and Planning Commission, and Warren Delano Robbins, protocol officer in the State Department. Mr. Roosevelt is a third cousin to J. P. Morgan, a first cousin to Warren Delano Robbins, a nephew of Frederic A. Delano, but more distantly related to the others mentioned.

Allied With Strong Families.

The fact that Franklin D. Roosevelt is a fifth cousin to Theodore is not in itself of great significance. Hundreds of others are similarly and more closely related to that great American. The real significance from the viewpoint of heredity is that the Roosevelt family in every generation has allied itself through marriage with other strong families. The Roosevelt stock, blended with the gentle blood of the South, produced Theodore, whereas, the same stock, plus the New England Yankee lines with a dash of French Huguenot, has given us Franklin.

However, despite the Dutch and Huguenot strains—and certainly Roosevelt and Delano are names of which any one should be proud—the thirty-second president's ancestry is predominantly English. Of his eight great-grandparents, six were entirely of English descent, the other two were Dutch-Huguenot-English and Huguenot-English, respectively. And, of Mr. Roosevelt's 16 great-great-grandparents it seems most likely that 13 were of pure English stock.

By and large, the ancestry of Franklin Delano Roosevelt is rather typically America. His forbears have served their country well is every crisis, from the Pequot Indian uprising in 1637 to the present time. They have helped to build America—their descendants will help to preserve its traditions, to develop its resources and to defend it under all circumstances.

Miss Lucille Christie of Frisco was declared winner of the $758.35 Chevrolet de luxe six sedan in the subscription circulation campaign of The Weekly Democrat-Gazette and Daily Courier-Gazette that ended March 11. Immense Vote Totals.

Commanding vote figures acquired by the winning candidates in the McKinney Daily Courier-Gazette and Weekly Democrat-Gazette's Automobile and Prize Campaign were made possible by the liberal vote allowances made during the various periods of the race, and it is to those who made the most of these special opportunities that success now comes.

The campaign was in effect divided into four distinct periods. During the first of these a bonus of 100,000 extra votes was given on each $10.00 club of subscriptions, and this bonus at the beginning of the campaign was the largest to be given. Most candidates did their best during this period, and with competition just in its infancy many were able to amass thousands of votes at that time.

Vote accumulation grew even larger when the second period arrived, during which a bonus of 90,000 extra votes were given with each $10.00 club. Added to this was an extra gold prize—for the candidate who turned in the most money in subscription payments, and here again candidates made a substantial progress toward the ultimate goal, during the third period 80,000 votes for every $10.00 were given, also an extra added gold prize of $75.00 to the one turning in the most subscription cash, while during the final week of the campaign a vote schedule giving substantially and equivalent number of votes on subscriptions as was made possible during the various club offer provided candidates with their final opportunity to make a whirlwind finish in the home stretch.

Regular votes, of course, were given on each subscription turned in. The liberality of the regular vote schedule, coupled with the generous bonus offers, made possible to attain figures that ran into millions.

During the campaign candidates had the privilege of holding in reserve any vote ballots that were sent them for verification, and many chose to do so, thus revealing their full strength only for the final count.

NORTH TEXAS W. M. S. WILL MEET IN CITY

The Woman's Missionary society of the First Methodist church met in joint session with the Social Workers on Monday, March 13, for the purpose of devising ways of entertaining the North Texas Woman's Missionary society which meets with the first church on April 4, 5, 6.

The president, Mrs. E. L. Burton, appointed committees composed of members from each society. Mrs. C. M. Simpson tendered the use of the parsonage for the social meeting in the afternoon of the second day and the Social Workers very generously offered to act as hostesses for this social meeting.

The committee on resolutions reported and Mrs. M. H. Garnett, chairman, read resolutions of sympathy on the death of one of the most useful and beloved members, Mrs. J. A. Caldwell. The resolutions were adopted and a copy sent to the family, one recorded in the minutes and one sent to the press.

RESOLUTIONS OF SYMPATHY.
"He Giveth His Beloved Sleep."

Whereas: It has pleased Him who doeth all things well to call unto Himself and to the reward awaiting a life so replete with gentleness and love, the spirit of our loved friend and co-worker, Mrs. J. A. Caldwell, we her associates, tenderly holding near to our hearts the memory of her noble life, and wishing to express the same, direct it hereby.

Resolved: That as a member of the Woman's Missionary society of the First Methodist Missionary society of the First Methodist church of McKinney, we loved and admired her, because of her faithfulness, gentleness and intelligence, her conscientious devotion to duty and her unfailing exemplification of all the characteristics that make the best type of christian womanhood. Our close association with her for many years intensified our affection and made us feel that in her we each had a personal friend, whose deep influence has not been felt by us alone, but by all those with whom she came in contact. One of our highest aspirations is to emulate the pure life she lived among us.

Resolved: That to her grief-stricken husband and sons we extend our sincerest sympathy, realizing the irreparable loss they have sustained, of a wife and mother, whose devotion knew no bounds; to the devoted daughters-in-law and grandchildren, and to all those endeared to her by ties of kinship and affection, we wish to express the heartfelt sympathy of each member of the society.

Resolved: That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the society and another copy sent to the sorrowing family.

MRS. W. P. O'NEAL DIES AT HOME OF DAUGHTER

WAS MOTHER OF MRS. W. L. WATKINS, OF THIS CITY

Funeral services for Mrs. W. P. O'Neal, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. L. Watkins, 913 South Chestnut street, were conducted at the Foote Baptist church Sunday, March 19, at 2:30 o'clock by Rev. J. R. Hilger of Greenville assisted by Dr. J. H. Cozad, pastor of the First Baptist church, McKinney, and Rev. Earl Hill of Fort Worth, pastor of the Foote church. Special songs were sung by Misses Pauline and Ruth Duncan and the Foote choir and Miss Frankie Oates of McKinney. Miss Oates sang beautifully "I See the Lights of Home."

Active pallbearers were: T. J. Robertson, Bart Bryant, Robert Furr, Troy Scalf, Ray Duncan and J. J. Nash.

The flowers were carried by her small grandchildren and their little friends.

Miss Zibbie Parr was born in Lincoln county, Tennessee, May 14, 185. There she grew to young womanhood and on February 24, 1888, was married to W. P. O'Neal, who procceded her in death, April 17, 1929. In 1894, she, with her husband, came to Texas and settled just north of McKinney. Later they moved to the Foote community, where she resided for more than thirty-five years. A few weeks ago, her health having failed, she came to the home of her daughter, where she was lovingly cared for until she passed away at 3 p. m. Friday, March 17, as above stated.

The deceased was converted and joined the Baptist church in girlhood and lived a faithful Christian life. She was a woman of high ideals and kindly disposition, and the crowd of sorrowing friends, who followed the body to its last resting place and the many beautiful floral offerings were testimonials of the esteem in which this good woman was held.

She is survived by seven children as follows: Mrs. W. L. Watkins and W. G. O'Neal of McKinney, Mrs. W. A. Hand and Mrs. J. S. Hand, Canyon; Mrs. J. A. Furr, Rhea Mills; E. M. O'Neal, Bloomdale, and Miss Bessie O'Neal at home. One son, Oscar O'Neal, died in infancy. Three stepchildren, Mrs. R. C. Greer, McKinney; Mrs. D. B. Greer, Flag, and J. B. O'Neal, Ladonia; three half-sisters, Mrs. Fate Magers, Alvord; Mrs. Will Sebrine, Cleburne, and Mrs. Carl Wilson, Athens, Alabama; one half-brother, A. E. Parr, Grandview, and fifteen grandchildren, also survive.

Those attending the funeral from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. David Conine and Miss Blackburn, Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Magers and Roy Magers and family, Alvord, and Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Robertson, Sanger.

The Sam J. Massie & Son Funeral home was in charge of arrangements.

FARMERSVILLE CLUB LADIES GUESTS OF OWLS

[Gu]ests of distinction were en[tertai]ned in our city, Friday af[ter]noon, March 17, in the person [of th]e Ingleside club of Farmers[ville,] Mrs. Eva Bradford, presi[dent,] Miss Gertrude Neathery, [vice] president. This club was or[ganiz]ed in the early part of 1896, [the s]econd in the county (the Owl [club i]n McKinney in 1893 was the [first]) and was among the first to join the State Federation [which] now numbers 838 clubs. It [has] contributed a district presi[dent] and secretary, Miss Hattie [Neath]ery and Mrs. J. L. Purvin, [and s]everal efficient chairmen of [impor]tant branches of the federa[tion.] There is not space to record [the sp]lendid civic work and influ[ence.] Its roster has always in[cluded] the names of the first [ladi]es of Farmersville and its [most] efficient and aspiring wom[en. O]n this, its thirty-seventh an[nivers]ary, the Ingleside club was [enterta]ined at luncheon in the [home] of Mrs. L. C. Clifton here [in Mc]Kinney, who is an honorary [memb]er and a prime mover in its [organ]ization. The Owl club co[operat]ed in extending hospitality [celebr]ating its "Play Day" and in[cident]ally St. Patrick's natal day [and] all appointments in accord. [Each] guest wore her name pinned on in lieu of formal introduction. Places at the tables were found by lovely hand-painted cards, the work of Elaine Speight of Dallas, granddaughter of the hostess contributed as a surprise. Tiny Irish flags waved above the ices of the last course during which Mrs. Church stood and in a reminiscent way spoke beautifully of the origin and trend of clubs coming nearer and including the two pioneers meeting together today and proposing a toast to the Ingleside, "Our guests."

Very appropriately, Mrs. John B. Honaker, charter member, yielded to a request to tell of her recent trip to her native land—"Ould Ireland." Three things held her audience spellbound—her beauty, wit and interesting experiences. Her talk was illuminated by pictures and all enjoyed examining a handsome hand-painted table cloth and a bunch of native flax from which the coveted Irish linen is woven.

The Owl club put on a farcical skit entitled "How the Story Grew," substituting the names of the Farmersville ladies, which was taken in fine spirit and great amusement. The cast was composed of Mrs. W. E. Ditto, director, and president of the Owls; Mesdames F. E. Wilcox, C. M. Simpson, W. T. Hoard, T. H. Bryant, Mrs. J. L. Lovejoy J. E. and Roy Largent Of such are Little theaters made and popularized. Other little courtesies were exchanged between the two clubs, "A Rowland for an Oliver" so to speak. Mrs. C. W. Thomas accompanied on the piano by Mrs. J. E. Blackburn, sang two pleasing numbers, "Irish Eyes Are Smiling" and a little Scotch song in a voice of wonderful sweetness and charm. Mrs. J. E. Largent called for the Owls to stand and let off with "Happy Birthday to You," which was sung with a vim. Mrs. Blackburn equal to the occasion mustered her forces and came back with a "peppy" rah! rah! rah. for the Owls. Mrs. Etta Cox and Miss Hattie Neathery added a word of pleasant appreciation. It was a happy commingling of friends and many voiced the wish to have other such occasions. Those in attendance from Farmersville were: Mesdames J. E. Blackburn, A. L. Carpenter, R. A. Davis, C. C. Hale, J. B. Honaker, Mattie Ralph, H. H. Sandell, W. J. Staats, C. W. Thomas, Wayne Dyer, Etta Pendleton Cox and Miss Hattie Neathery. Mrs. Jesse Speight of Dallas assisted her mother in extending the hospitality of the home as did Mrs. Clifton's sister, Mrs. J. Lawrence Moore.

Mrs. Clifton was most happily remembered by the Ingleside club with a vase of gorgeous yellow narcissus tied with white, the club colors. Mrs. W. W. McDowell, an Owl favorite, now in Austin, sent the rich calendulas that added so much color to the suite and Mrs. Speight brought from Dallas the soft, luxurious Talisman roses and freesias lending warmth and fragrance. Profound appreciation is hereby extended for these pretty compliments.

The Owl club will be the guest of the Pierian club at the First Presbyterian church, March 24.

"What is a woman's club? A meeting ground
For those of purpose great, and broad, and strong,
Whose aim is toward the stars; who ever long
To make the patient, listening world resound
With sweetest music, purer, nobler tones;
A place where kindly, helpful words are said,
And kindlier deeds are done; where hearts are fed;
Where wealth of brain or poverty atones
And hand grasps hand and souls find such with soul."

Bradshaw, officiating. Burial followed in the Walnut Grove ceemtery with the Sam J. Massie & Son Funeral home in charge.

Pall bearers were: C. H. Barnes, Arthur Curtis, Rodger Lindsey, T. J. Lusk, M. C. White and D. W. Cloyd.

The deceased, who had been a well-known McKinney resident for several years dropped dead of a heart attack while at work on one of his rent houses on North Kentucky street early Thursday morning, in company with D. W. Cloyd, a close friend and neighbor.

He is survived by his grief-stricken wife and two daughters, Mrs. Pauline Lusk, wife of Vernon Lusk, and Delilah, ten years of age. Twin daughters died in infancy.

Parks Thompson was born November 1, 1869, in Illinois, being 63 years and 4 months old at the time of his passing. His parents moved to Kentucky when he was very small, later coming to Texas when he was seven years old. He was married on August 15, 1909, to Mrs. Julia Phillips, Rev. J. W. Hollums, Baptist minister, officiating. They resided on their farm in the Bloomdale community until 1926, when they bought a home at the corner of North College and West White streets, where they had since resided.

The deceased was converted and joined the North McKinney Baptist church during the pastorate of Rev. O. B. Darby, who baptized him.

He was quiet, unassuming and honest, and a loving husband, father and friend, who was known and liked by a wide circle of friends. He conducted a grocery near the Thompson gin in the southwestern city limits for several years.

GOOD CROP ROTATION FOR THIS COUNTY

County Farm Agent Jack McCullough says, in discussing present planting season on farms all over the county, that for maximum production of field crops the following essential steps should be taken:

Proper terracing or contouring, wherever needed.

2. Good soil preparation.

3. Application of manure or commercial fertilizer where needed.

3. Pure seed of adapted varieties.

5. Shallow summer cultivation to keep down weeds and grass.

6. Winter cover crops.

7. A good system of rotation

A good crop rotation for the blackland belt to keep up the yeilds are cotton, corn and oats. At the Denton experiment station and on demonstrations, sweet clover planted with spring oats in the rotation has improved the soil fertility a great deal. If sweet clover is not planted, cowpeas or soy beans could follow the oats where root rot is not a factor.

LETTER FROM SOUTHGATE, CAL., TELLS OF QUAKE

Mrs. J. S. Shipman and son, Pressly Shipman, of McKinney, have received a letter from their daughter and sister, Mrs. Dellie Deloch of Southgate, Calif., formerly Miss Dellie Shipman of this city. Mrs. Deloch has been residing in California for the past five or six years. Southgate, where she lives, was in the midst of the recent earthquake which struck that section on Friday afternoon, March 10, continuing in a lighter form until Sunday following.

Mrs. Shipman also has another daughter, living in the same place, Mrs. Quentin A. Cerk. Excerpts from Mrs. Deloch's letter follows:

"We sure had some earthquake out here. It started at Long Beach, Compton, Watts, Southgate, Huntington Park and Los Angeles and fire broke out everywhere. It happened at 5 minutes until 6 o'clock last Friday, the tenth. It was awful. I hope I never will have to go through that again. Wayne was knocked down and rolled all over the floor and we were all holding on to the table to keep from falling. All factories and houses that were built out of brick were demolished. The town of Watts was destroyed and set afire and every building in the Huntington Park business district was ruined. Sixteen were killed in Huntington Park; Long Beach, 95; Los Angeles, 8; Harbor District, 6; Orange County 4; Norway, 2; Pacoima, 2; Sautelle, 1, and 12 died with heart failure. It was awful. They are still finding bodies. We are still having earthquake shocks about four a day. Some of them are pretty hard when it turns your cookstove over and [illegible]

NATIVE COLLIN MAN HONORED BY DALLAS CO.

(Dallas Journal)

H. B. Parris was elected secretary and treasurer of the Dallas Power & Light company, while all other officers and directors were re-elected for the ensuing year at annual meetings of stockholders and directors Tuesday morning.

Charles W. Davis, president, discussed operations of the company in the last year at the stockholders' meeting in the employes' assembly hall. A large representation from the company's 5,000 stockholders was present and learned how the company has maintained its strong financial position in the face of reduced revenue resulting from rate reductions and general business curtailment.

Promotion of Mr. Parris to the position of secretary and treasurer comes as recognition for his long and efficient service with the company, Mr. Davis said. Mr. Parris is a native of Collin county, Texas, where he was educated in the public schools and later graduated from the McKinney High school. He moved to Dallas in 1911 and was employed by local oil companies until 1914, when he entered the employ of the old Dallas Electric Light & Power company. In 1917 he removed to El Paso, where he was in the accounting department of the El Paso Electric company. Re-entering the service of the Dallas Power & Light company in 1919, Mr. Parris was elected assistant secretary and assistant treasurer in 1924 and has served continuously in that post until the present. He is a Mason, a member of the Dallas Electric club and the Round Table club. Mr. Parris has been active in the work of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce and the Community Chest.

Officers elected at the meeting Tuesday include H. B. Head, chairman of the board; C. W. Davis, president; H. L. Seay and W. E. Holland, vice presidents; J. A. Worsham, vice president and general counsel; H. B. Parris, secretary and treasurer, and J. V. Norvell, assistant secretary. H. G. Elmore was elected assistant treasurer. Dallas directors are Frank E. Austin, C. W. Davis, E. L. Flippen, W. B. Head, A. A. Jackson, T. E. Jacyson, George W. Loudermilk, F. M. Rayburn, H. L. Seay, R. L. Thornton, Edward Titche and Joe A. Worsham.

The above story from the Dallas Journal will be read with interest here, since Mr. Parris is a native Collin county boy. He attended and graduated from the McKinney High school. He is a son of the late T. A. Parris, who served as county treasurer of Collin several years ago, and of Mrs. T. A. Parris, who still lives in this city. He is a brother of Mrs. Wilbur Kindle, also of this city.

Mrs. H. B. Parris is a former McKinney woman being, before her marriage, Miss Ruth Wilson, daughter of the late Prof. and Mrs. Tom Wilson of this city. She is a sister of Paul K. Wilson of McKinney and of G. A., Ted and Fred Wilson, all former McKinney young men.

CONGRATULATIONS FROM FORMER M'KINNEY EDITOR

Among the many congratulatory messages that Judge Wallace Hughston, Grand Master of the Grand Masonic Lodge of Texas, has received relative to his radio address Saturday evening was one that he especially appreciated from F. D. Pittman, McAlester, Oklahoma, who was city editor of The Daily Courier for two or three years after it was first established thirty-six years ago. Fort was a good writer and, although after leaving McKinney he retired from the newspaper game to become a merchant, he has not lost any power of his gifted penn, judging from the following extract taken from his letter to Judge Hughston:

"Dear Wallace:

"I congratulate you upon your very able address over WFAA tonight. I happened to be listening in and caught every word and enjoyed it Your counsel and admonitions should be heeded by all Americans, as well as Masons. President Roosevelt seems to have a clear and very definite conception of the needs of the hour and the courage to invoke the processes necessary to achieve the ends he seeks. It is to be hoped that all classes of patriots take special pains to let him know his courageous actions meet universal approval, and that they, as the nation's toilers and producers, are with him and at his beck and call as he lashes the "money changers," hypocritical apostates and the infamous gangs of greed from the temple and attempts to set the principles and machinery of Democracy back upon its foundations. I am glad you called the southwest to arms, and I hope it heeds your call.

You have perhaps forgotten me, for it is a long stretch since you were county attorney of old Collin, and I did a little pinch hitting for the old Courier, as its ubiquitous reporter, at the dawn of the century. I have never lost interest in McKinney, old Collin and Texas. I recall many pleasant memories of my sojourn in McKinney and often think of you, Tom Perkins, Walter Wilson, Clint and Carlie Thompson, the Pearsons, the Newsomes, the Dowells, the Beverlys, the Stiffs, the Whites, the Burtons, the Shains, the Greers, the Throckmortons and many others of that fine galaxy of citizenship. Give them one and all my kind regards and best wishes and accept the same for yourself.

Your Friend,
F. D. PITTMAN.

Charley Hooper, owner and manager of the Hooper Lumber company of Farmersville was in McKinney Tuesday, looking after business matters.

F. H. Marion, R. F. D. 1, Frisco, transacted business in McKinney Tuesday. He is a son of T. D. Marion, who lived for many years near Allen, and who is an excellent farmer and citizen. They are now living about a mile and a half west of Frisco.

H. R. Bachman and wife of Dallas were visiting old-time friends in McKinney Tuesday. They lived here some three or four years, moving to Dallas twenty-eight years ago, since which time he has been with the Dallas fire department. They remember many old-timers here. While here they called on Fire Chief J. S. McKinney, whom they knew while residents of McKinney. Mr. Bachman was greatly pleased as well as surprised at the wonderful fire equipment which McKinney has today, because twenty-eight years ago the fire equipment was very crude, as compared with the modern apparatus of which the department now boasts. Mr. and Mrs. Bachman's many friends were pleased to see them.

SEVEN CHARGES FILED AGAINST DALLAS MEN

FOLLOWING ROBBERY OF STORES AT MURPHY AND RENNER

Seven cases, five for burglary and two for theft over $50.00, have been filed against each of the following men: Glen Slaughterbeck, 24, and Clarence and Virgil Hall, 23 and 20, respectively, all of Dallas, by County Attorney W. C. Dowdy.

Their arrest followed the burglarizing of the Albert C. Taylor general merchandise store in Murphy Monday night, March 13. The three men approached Murphy in a truck said to have been driven by Virgil Hall. While he drove his truck alongside the store, the other two men alighted from the machine and made their way inside the store with a large number of empty sacks.

During this time, however, their actions had aroused a Murphy resident from his sleep, who notified other citizens and together they watched the truck drive alongside the store, and then rushed after the men.

The truck quickly left, while the other two men had been inside the store escaped on foot.

Mr. Taylor, the store owner, and other Murphy citizens followed the truck in his car, while a telephone call was put in to Dallas to be on the lookout for the men. Dallas officers were stationed on the northwest highway and soon stopped a truck in which Hall was riding. He was taken into custody by Red Downes, Dallas policeman.

The other two men were arrested about 3 o'clock the next afternoon in a Dallas rooming house.

Sheriff Walker and the deputies were notified, going down and bringing the men to McKinney and lodging them in jail here.

This was the second attempt to rob the Murphy store within the past year. More than $50.00 worth of merchandise was taken in the burglary there a year ago.

Two sacks had already been filled during the burglary last week, when the three men were scared away from the store. The sacks were left outside the store, in their hurry to make a getaway. They contained all kinds of canned goods and a general mixture of tobaccos.

These men are also charged with burglary of the J. W. Dooley general merchandise store at Renner on March 8 when the store was entered through the floor, the intruders prizing up the planks and making their entry. At this time they made their getaway with 300 pounds of sugar, overalls, shirts, silk hose, bacon, flour and all kinds of tobaccos and canned goods.

Mr. Dooley's store has been entered five times in the last year, beginning in March, 1932. Mr. Dooley, accompanied by local officers, went to Dallas last week and identified part of the loot found in the home of the boys as being from his place of business.

The seven charges filed against each of the three men include two charges of burglary in connection with the Murphy robbery and three charges of burglary in connection with the Renner burglary and one case of theft over $50.00 at each place.

The men are still in jail in this city.

A deputy sheriff from Crosby county was here last week and told local officers that Clarence Hall, one of the three held here, was charged with theft of an automobile in Crosby county and was already indicted, having made his escape from jail there in November, 1932. County Attorney Dowdy says that Clarence Hall will be taken back to Crosby county for trial. He will be tried there first if the Crosby court is held before the local court. However, he will be tried here first if the Fifty-Ninth District court is in session first.

M. T. M'GARR IS VICTIM HOLDUP LAST NIGHT

MASKED BANDIT STICKS GUN IN HIS SIDE; GETS $4.00

A lone, masked bandit held up and robbed M. T. (Mac) McGarr, local boarding house and cafe owner, of $3.00 or $4.00, about 9 o'clock Wednesday night, as Mr. McGarr was passing the Coliseum cafe on the jockey yard. Mr. McGarr, who owns and operates a restaurant on East Virginia street, was on his way to his home on East Davis street and was going across the jockey lot when a man stepped out from behind the south end of the Coliseum cafe and stuck into his side what Mr. McGarr thought was a gun. He was asked to hand over his money, between $3 and $4. Because the bandit was masked, Mr. McGarr could give but a very meager description of him. BEER IS LEGAL AS ROOSEVELT SIGNS MEASURE

CAN BE SOLD IN 14 STATES AFTER MIDNIGHT APRIL 6

Washington, March 23.—With smiles, the Roosevelt administration Wednesday formally authorized sale of beer. The bill legalizing the amber brew and wine of 3.2 per cent alcoholic content became law with the signature of President Roosevelt at 2 p. m.

"And I hope you got the smile at the end," he remarked to photographers who recorded the signing in the cabinet room at the White House executive office.

Wearing a broad grin himself an hour earlier, Vice President Garner had affixed his signature to the legislation to send it from congress to the White House.

Fifteen days hence—or after midnight on April 6—the beer may be sold in the fourteen states permitting it. The midnight hour applies to the eastern time belt. Sales may begin at 9 o'clock that night on the Pacific coast, for instance.

Drys to Go to Courts.

But the prohibitionists already were at work Wednesday night on plans to halt the beer flow by court action. Some were considering seeking an injunction. Others were preparing to speed the case to the Supreme court for a ruling whether it violated the constitutional mandate against sale of intoxicating beverages.

FARM AID BILL WINS IN HOUSE; VOTE IS 315-98

OPPOSITION IS SMOTHERED IN VOTE ON MEASURE

Washington, March 23.—A fourth giant display of Roosevelt strength Wednesday sped through the house to a more doubtful senate future, a new remedy for farming ills.

Two days of debate bristling with criticism of the drastic farm aid plan mustered only ninety-eight opposition votes when the roll was called on a bill virtually identical with that sent from the White House last week.

Against this small minority of seventy-three Republicans, twenty-four Democrats and one Farmer-Laborite, the Democratic machine rolled up 315 votes, including thirty-nine Republicans and four Farmer-Laborites.

The measure would confer upon Secretary Wallace unprecedented powers to deal with the farm situation. Under its terms he could apply any of several methods of controlling surpluses and reducing cotton plantings by giving in exchange options on government-owned cotton.

Mortgage Relief Next.

While the house chamber echoed with debate it was made known that within the week the administration would have ready its second step in the farm field—a plan for refinancing agriculture and home mortgages at lower rates of interest and amortization.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, said he planned to have this new administration plan attached to the relief bill in the senate. Although this would require further consideration of the present bill by the house, it is calculated to save time in enacting the whole program.

The second and final installment of funds for the state aid recommended for Collin county schools has been received by County Superintendent L. Dow Hendricks and his assistant, Malcolm Walters. This check from the state department of education is for $13,000, bringing the total received to $27,500. This aid was recommended by G. D. Holbrook, state aid inspector from Austin, who inspected the Collin county schools.

Farmers are very anxious for settled, dry working weather so that they can plant their corn and do other planting and needed farm work now ready to be done as soon as the soil will admit. Small grain is now looking nice and green. The February freezes killed much of the fall sown oats; where this acreage has been resown in spring oats, they are up to a good stand and converting the brown fields into a verdant green color again.

As may be seen by reference to our classified columns, J. W. McKinney, Jr., is now manager of the Conoco Filling Station, corner North Tennessee and Hunt streets. He is soliciting at least a part of your business for gasoline, oil, greasing your car or washing it and any kind of tire repair work. His phone is 455. Mr. McKinney has had much experience in this line. He has a well located and equipped filling station and promises you the best of service as well as prices in keeping with the lowest quality considered.

The volunteer fire department was called out shortly after 9 o'clock this, Tuesday, morning, answering an alarm on Tucker street, where a house, which was vacant, and owned by Glen Massie of this city, caught fire. Mr. Massie was having some repairing and improvement work done there, preparatory to occupying it as a home. Fortunately, little damage was done, Mr. Massie reports. The house caught fire as workmen were burning off some old paint on the structure with blowtorches.

Jim Goodner, one of the city's most progressive business men, and owner of considerable property here, as well as farm lands, has recently purchased and moved a nice house on his lot on South Kentucky street. The house will be nicely repainted and fixed up, and will make a good rent house, being close in and on paved street. McKinney needs more builders like Jim Goodner. They are necessary if our town continues to grow and improve.

Some Oklahoma men were in McKinney, Friday, looking around with a view to buying a carload of good Jersey milch cows. They interviewed County Farm Agent Jack P. McCullough who is looking for them back again next week as they can find just what they want in and around McKinney and in this county. The animals are to be shipped to customers in Oklahoma.

Hon. John Doyle, prominent McKinney attorney, who has been ill for the past several weeks was taken Thursday to the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Wheeler, in Dallas, where he is now under the care of Baylor hospital physicians. He was taken to Dallas in the Massie ambulance. His condition is unchanged. McKinney friends are hoping for a speedy recovery for Mr. Doyle.

Much improvement is going on over the city in the way of trimming up trees, shrubbery and cleaning premises. Spring is here and McKinney, as usual, will be one of the cleanest towns in Texas. Rake up all debris on your premises, put it in some kind of receptacle, put out on streets or alleys, and call 724. The trash wagons will get same. Two trash wagons are running full time. Many people over the city are also busy making gardens. All in all, McKinney is a mighty good old town to live in. We say so.

Otho Nitcholas, Collin county youngster and one of the best baseball players ever turned out in this section, who is now in spring practice with the Fort Worth Cats, had a big day Thursday at the Cats' camp at Mineral Wells when he got one of the seven hits in an intra-squad game and scored his team's only run. Nitcholas, who is a pitcher, was moved into right field. In the last half of the fifth, Otho, who was the first man up, doubled to left for a starter. Warren grounded to Williams, who made the mistake of trying to get Nitcholas going to third. The throw was wild and Nicholas scored. McKinney friends and fans of this former "strikeout artist" of the championship McKinney High Lions' clubs are rooting for him to come through with the Fort Worth club.

WYLIE STYLE SHOW PROVES BIG SUCCESS

The auditorium of the Wylie High school, in Southeast Collin, was crowded to capacity Friday night, when members of the Wylie High school girls' basket ball team sponsored a style show and baby parade that proved one of the most delightful entertainments ever given in that progressive little city.

The style show was made possible through the courtesy of the J. C. Penney company of McKinney, of which Chas. M. Cooper is local manager and co-owner. This enterprising McKinney concern furnished all the latest styles and creations worn by both the kiddies and the older boys and girls.

Proceeds will be used to help purchase sweaters for the Wylie girls' basket ball team.

Choice McClure, of the local J. C. Penney company store, acted as master of ceremonies, announcing the name of each model as they appeared on the stage, together with a description of the latest spring styles and creations they were wearing. The stage was unusually attractive for the show and made an ideal setting for the pretty young girl models and the handsome young men as they appeared.

Chas. M. Cooper, local Penney company manager, was called upon to say a few words and expressed his pleasure at being able to help the residents of Wylie in such a worthy enterprise.

Perhaps the feature of the evening's entertainment was the baby parade, in which a dozen or more of Wylie's prettiest little tots, both boys and girls, paraded amid the applause of the large audience. Winners were Junior Newsome and Jerry Matney.

Young ladies modeling sport dresses included: Dorothy Akins, Frances Whorton, Mildred Housewright and Corrine Hillis. Young men models were Richard Hillis, Dewitt Moore, Max Richie and J. J. Holloman.

Junior and intermediate boys modeling the latest in spring suits were Wylie Stone, Buster Stewart and Jimmie Spurgeon.

Street dresses were worn by Corrine Hicks, Mildred Housewright, Mildred Hillis, Beatrice Housewright, Oneta Lacy and Mary Ellen Stone.

Evening dresses were worn by Frances Whorton, Corrine Hillis, Oneta Lacy, Mary Ellen Stone, Dorothy Akins, Beatrice Housewright, Mildred Hillis and Corrine Hicks.

Special music was provided between acts by Raymond Williams, vocalist, and Miss Duncan, pianist.

Among those attending from McKinney were the following: Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Cooper and son, Kenneth; Mrs. Stanley Ballard; Miss Hazel Francis, Choice McClure, Miss Sue Sullivan, W. F. Algary, George Howerton, Miss Fletcher Anderson, Miss Helen Dunlap, Chas. W. Graves and Don W. Bagwill.

Children's wash dresses were modeled by Helen Boyd, Billie Faye Williams and Mary Sue Allison.

Children's silk dresses were modeled by Nancy Jane Hillis, Patsy Ruth Williams, Wanda Jean Potts and Helen Boyd.

Miss Fletcher Anderson, Mrs. John Green and Mrs. John Snapp are conducting a Sunday school revival or training school at the Foote Baptist church, west of McKinney, this week. Miss Andersen is in charge of the school, teaching the book, "Growing a Church," to the seniors. Mrs. Green is teaching the second division of the manual to the adults, while Mrs. John Snapp is teaching "Bible Heroes" to the juniors and intermediates. The school will come to a successful close Friday night when examinations will be given. Rev. Earl Hill of Seminary Hill, Fort Worth, is pastor of the Foote church.

Miss Anderson says much interest is being shown in the school as is noted in the attendance each evening. The ladies conducting the classes are well qualified to teach and are receiving the hearty co-operation of the residents of the Foote community in the revival this week.

AVERY DOWELL ENJOYED TRIP TO WASHINGTON

A very interesting visit was enjoyed by this editor with W. Avery Dowell, prominent local merchant and civic leader, in which the conversation turned on his recent week's visit at the national capital.

As before mentioned in these columns Mr. Dowell, his wife, his sister, Mrs. Fred G. Buraitt and Mrs. R. C. (Clarence) Merritt all went to Washington on the special train of Texans to witness the recent inauguration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. A big crowd met the train on a short stop at Bonham, the home town of Congressman Sam Rayburn of this district, who became a recognized factor in the Democratic leadership during the last presidential campaign, he being chairman of the state and national campaign organization of Speker Jack Garner that resulted in the latter's nomination and election as vice president of the United States.

The train also stopped at Detroit, in Red River county, the birthplace of Vice President Garner, where several thousand old home neighbors of Garner met them and conveyed the distinguished party to the cemetery at Detroit where the mother of Mr. Garner was recently buried. Very impressive ceremonies were held at which State Senator Margie Neal, prominent Carthage newspaper woman, was the chief speaker.

At Washington, the Texas delegation was given an enthusiastic reception by the Texans residing at the national capital and others from all over the nation. On account of Vice President-Elect Garner being from the Lone Star state, the latter commonwealth was in the eye of the nation, second only to New York, the home of President-Elect Roosevelt.

Congressman Rayburn and United States Senators Sheppard and Connally, as well as the other Texas congressmen, united in showing many courtesies to the visiting delegation from their home state for the gala occasion.

The inauguration was probably attended by the greatest outpouring of people ever before witnessed on such an occasion. The weather was favorable, the open air ceremonies in front of the national capitol were witnessed by multiplied thousands. The inaugural parade passing along before the presidential reviewing stand was miles in length and animated by martial and national music of many noted bands, by uniformed army, navy and marine contingents and other brilliant units representing every state and insular possession of the Republic.

Mr. Dowell had often passed through Washington City but always being on a business errand to cities of the north and east, he had never before taken the time to stop on a purely sightseeing mission. Consequently, he and his party enjoyed themselves to the limit in seeing the points of interest in our beautiful national capital city.

They saw scores of political and official celebrities of the nation and of other nations and personally met many of them.

Mr. Dowell stated that he was really surprised at the nationwide popularity and influence that our own Congressman Sam Rayburn enjoys among his colleagues in congress and in all public official circles and departments at the national capital. He considers this a real asset to his constituents of this district and entire state as for that matter.

Mr. Dowell was one of the Texas delegates to the last national Democratic convention at Chicago that nominated Roosevelt and Garner the overwhelmingly victorious ticket at the general election on November 8. He is extensively acquainted with Texas officials and party leaders in every portion of the state and on his recent week's stay at Washington during the inauguration period he had the opportunity of extending his acquaintanceship with party leaders throughout the nation.

A. M. (Uncle Gus) Wilson, who resides a few miles northwest of McKinney, has received a telegram from his niece, Mrs. Cora Wilson Dodson, of Santa Monica, Cal., stating that she and her family are safe following the recent terrible California earthquake. The message states that Santa Monica was not hit so hard by the tremor, but received a bad shaking up. There was very little property damage. The many relatives and friends of the Dodson family in McKinney and Collin county will be glad to learn that they are all safe following the terribe disaster.

ADVERTISE.

That 1933 is of all years a year which business men should make full use of advertising, is pointed out by no less an authority than Henry C. Lytton, noted Chicago merchant. Let's briefly take a look into the past life of this financial expert and successful business man and see if he knows whereof he speaks on the subject of advertising. Forty-six years ago, we learn, he entered the business world. With $12,000 capital he spent almost $4,000 of that amount for advertising—before he had opened his doors. Recently his business was valued at ...,000. The example of this man should prove the wisdom of carefully planned advertising program. From his example, can't we truthfully say that cutting on advertising appropriations is false economy of a most expensive kind, as a contemporary rightfully points out? Let McKinney merchants read this and think long on the example of ... ted a business man. The McKinney merchant who carries a wise advertising program in these papers, as many already started out to do, undoubtedly be the merchant who comes out ahead at the end of the year.

FIGHT MALARIA.

With spring already here, our thoughts naturally turn to clean-up ..., which McKinney and other towns of this state and nation ... ally observe. And, along with clean-up weeks, we also think of a preventable disease, malaria. Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer, in a communication to the papers, declares that a total of 300 Texans died from malaria last year and, furthermore, that $500,000 (a cool half million dollars) are lost each year in this state by this disease. Approximately 60,000 Texans are ill with the malady annually, all incapacitated at least an average of a week. Collin county school children for the past few years have been studying about malaria, its causes and how it can be prevented. With the younger generation acquainting themselves on the problem, it is to be hoped that more care will be taken in the future regarding the subject and how it can be prevented. These school children have learned that malaria is caused by the bite of a certain mosquito, which bites and sucks blood from a person that has the germ of malaria in his system, then biting a well person. In this manner the germ is transmitted. You've had the disease ... now, as we do, the symptoms. First, you begin to shiver with chills, then burn with fever, and you have the never-to-be-forgotten headaches. The fever may last for weeks, or may go away soon. The problem is simply this: We must destroy the breeding places of these mosquitoes and homes must be properly screened. ... program is carried out in city and county, must go on and precautions taken to destroy that mosquito. It would pay all of us to think on this subject, now that spring is here, which means that pesky mosquito will soon be with us again. Let's do our part in making our city and county attractive and healthy.

DRUGS ARE PASSING

Years ago nearly all people believed that drugs would cure almost anything. The feeling prevailed that if the right kind of drugs could be found, it would soon make them well. Now a more enlightened public is getting away from this foolish idea. They are depending on Nature and not placing all of their faith in habit-forming drugs.

If you cut your finger, there is no known way to compel it to heal, yet Nature will repair the damage if you will stop cutting it. By the same token, Nature will restore health if you remove the causes of the disease.

If you have some ailment that is due to faulty elimination or unbalance in the body's chemical arrangements, the thing to be done is to correct the body chemistry; clean up the entire system and allow Nature to repair the damage just as is done in the case of the cut finger.

Hundreds of thousands of people have let Nature relieve them of such chronic ailments as: rheumatism, neuritis, colitis, acidosis, nervous ailments, liver and kidney disorders, arthritis, and others by just adding Crazy Water Crystals t othel rdrinking water. One package of Crazy Water Crystals will make approximately 15 gallons of natural Crazy Water, at a cost of only 10c per gallon. ...

Born In Kentucky.

William Travis Bogan died at 10 a. m. Thursday, March 16, in McKinney. He was born October 8, 1859, near Bowling Green, Ky., being at the time of his death 73 years, 5 months and 8 days old. His parents, W. H. and Mary (White) Bogan, were members of an old Kentucky family that originally came from the state of North Carolina. He was reared in Simpson county, where he was born on the farm that his grandfather Bogan settled. In the year, 1880, he came with his parents to Texas and settled in McKinney, which he continued to call home for nearly fifty-three years. Both of his parents died in McKinney, his father passing away in 1886 and his mother on October 27, 1917. He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Lee Braswell of near Melissa and Mrs. Jones, with whom and her husband he had made his home for many years and who gave him every attention and care that a devoted brother and sister could bestow upon him. He is also survived by four nephews and two nieces as follows: Earl Jones of Dallas and Alton Jones of Farmersville, Ernest Braswell of near Melissa, Clyde Braswell of Dallas, Miss Winnie Braswell of Melissa and Mrs. I. M. Counts of McKinney. The deceased was the only son born in the family of his parents. He was preceded to the grave by one sister, Miss Grady Bogan, a school teacher of this city and county.

Prominent Mason.

Mr. Bogan had been a Mason for more than forty years, holding membership in the St. John's lodge of this city. He was a Royal Arch Mason, a Knight Templar and a Shriner. He thoroughly believed in the tenets of free Masonry and lived up to its teachings in his daily walk, as to worthy citizenship and honest upright character. In his boyhood days he professed religion and identified himself with the Cumberland Presbyterian church in Kentucky. He was a conscientious, modest man who shrank from the limelight of publicity and notoriety. He was industrious by nature and attentive to business. In his young manhood he obtained a good common school education and graduated from a leading Dallas commercial college, but he was naturally inclined to the calling of a mechanic and was also an expert wood-workman. He was employed in these capacities for more than thirty years with the Collin County Mill & Elevator company of this city, but ill health some months ago made it impossible for him to continue longer in that capacity. He was a devoted son who never married but gave his life to helping care for his widowed mother and educate and care for his sisters. He was a man of broad sympathy whose unostentatious charity went out to the distressed and for the relief of the poor, the sick and the needy about him. He was a warm hearted, companionable friend who could be trusted and depended upon and whose word was his bond. A wide circle of friends mourn the going of this good man and extend sincere sympathy to the bereaved sisters and other surviving relatives.

Simon Taylor, fine fellow from Melissa, greeted friends in McKinney Thursday.

Virgil Fisher and family are back from the state Sanatorium near San Angelo. They have been out there some ten months. All have greatly improved in health, which is very gratifying to their many friends. They have rented a house in the northwest part of McKinney, and their many friends are pleased to see them home again.

Mrs. Claude M. Simpson of this city, president of the North Texas Woman's Missionary Conference, left Monday night for Louisville, Kentucky, to attend the Woman's Missionary Council. She joined a group of other Methodist ladies from over the state at Dallas for the trip. Mrs. Simpson is a member of the Executive Committee of the Woman's Missionary Council.

Robert Davis, aged 7 months and 28 days, son of Mr. and Mrs. Olney Carpenter of Plano, died Tuesday morning at 7:30 o'clock in the Bradford Memorial hospital, Dallas. The baby was taken suddenly ill a few weeks ago. Pneumonia developed. He was taken to Dallas for treatment. Other complications set up and he passed away at the above stated time. Funeral services were held in the First Christian church, Plano, Wednesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, conducted by the pastor, Rev. D. W. Nicholas. Mr. Carpenter is bookkeeper in the First National Bank of Plano.
